

What Is Projectmates?

Projectmates is a full-scale construction project management software that manages every aspect of the construction project process, from initial concept and planning through to completion and handover. It's designed to make your job easier by improving communication, enhancing project efficiencies, and increasing accountability while saving time and reducing cost overruns.

The software is incessantly honed, ensuring it's a truly intuitive and highly functional project management solution that continues to deliver on our goal of saving clients time and costs on every construction project.

Projectmates has grown rapidly due to the support and valuable feedback from clients. While some software platforms are better suited to a specific industry, Projectmates works to quickly configure the software to fit each organization's unique business needs.
